

Pompeu Fabra University Assistant Professor Positions 2024

Pompeu Fabra University (UPF), Barcelona, seeks to hire tenure-track Assistant Professors to begin September 2024 in any Business and Management field. We are looking for candidates with an interesting research portfolio, who hold a Ph.D. (or will hold a PhD by the end of summer 2024) and have the potential to become top-level researchers in their areas.

The UPF Department of Economics and Business is a leading research center, and has consistently ranked among the top departments in Europe in terms of publications and success in highly competitive international grant competitions. Please see <https://www.upf.edu/en/web/econ/publications> for more information about research at the Department. Faculty members benefit from research and teaching support from the graduate schools of the university: the UPF-Barcelona School of Management and the Barcelona School of Economics.

Interested candidates should submit an electronic package including a current CV, a copy of the job market paper, a research statement, and three letters of recommendation at: https://editorialexpress.com/apply/upf\_management\_positions\_2024\_a144.

The deadline for complete applications is September 10, 2023.

Pre-flyout interviews will be held online via Zoom shortly after the deadline, and campus visits will be scheduled during Fall 2023. For any questions, please contact recruiting.management@upf.edu.
