

THE UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG
Faculty of Business and Economics

CALL FOR PAPERS

2018 Darden-Cambridge Judge-HKU FBE Entrepreneurship and Innovation Research Conference

- Paper submissions are due on 15 January 2018

- 2018 event to be held at the Faculty of Business and Economics of the University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong on 9-10 May 2018

The University of Virginia Darden School of Business, the University of Cambridge Judge Business School, and the University of Hong Kong's Faculty of Business and Economics (FBE) will co-host the conference in Hong Kong on May 9-10, 2018. With its first appearance in Asia, the conference aims to promote worldwide scholarly collaborations across regions, continents and academic communities.

We are very pleased to announce that the following two established scholars have agreed to give keynote talks to share their cutting-edge research with us at the conference:

- Karl Ulrich (CIBC Endowed Professor and Vice Dean of Entrepreneurship and Innovation, the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania)
- David Hsu (Richard A. Sapp Professor of Management, the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania)

We welcome unpublished working papers from all research areas within the topics entrepreneurship and innovation. Examples of suitable topics for the conference include:

- new venture formation processes, financing, and strategies;
- R&D and project management, performance metrics, and portfolio evaluation;
- institutions and policies to enhance entrepreneurship and innovation;
- markets for ideas, innovation, and other intangibles;
- regional and global dynamics of entrepreneurship and innovation;
- university and science-based innovation and technology transfer;
- continuous improvement and new process development; new product development, development processes, and service design;
- patents, licensing, and intellectual property;
- business model innovation (e.g., operations, marketing, or network innovation);
- open innovation and distributed innovation; and
- market and financial impact of innovation.

(Abstracted from Management Science's definition of entrepreneurship and innovation.)

In addition to the listed suitable topics, we are particularly interested in original research that is based on emerging country data, analyzes the innovation and entrepreneurial activities in Asia, and/or is related to cross-country knowledge spillovers.

Please submit an electronic version of your full paper no later than Monday, 15 January 2018, using the form located at this link: https://virginia.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_ehNqQgd3mL2ZOCh

The papers will be reviewed by the conference committee and the authors will receive notice by 15 March 2018.

About this Conference

The Batten Institute at the University of Virginia Darden School of Business hosted the inaugural annual conference (organized by Michael Lenox) in 2010. That first event attracted scholars from all over the world and featured a scholarly debate between Jay Barney and Sid Winter. As the conference grew in popularity, Darden partnered with the Academy of Management in hosting the 2012 event, which enabled the program to be streamed live to every continent. After that successful event, the Cambridge Judge Business School joined in 2013 as a co-sponsor alongside Darden. Since then, the event shifted location between the United Kingdom and the United States. In 2018, the University of Hong Kong (HKU) Faculty of Business and Economics (FBE) will join Darden and Cambridge Judge to co-host this event for the first time in Asia. Po-Hsuan Hsu (HKU FBE), Stelios Kavadias (Cambridge Judge), and Jeremy Hutchison-Krupat (Virginia Darden) will serve as the three co-chairs for the 2018 event.

The conference promises to provide a vigorous and lively discussion about current research in the fields of entrepreneurship and innovation from a global perspective. The conference committee also extends an invitation to interested scholars to attend the conference regardless of if a paper is submitted.
